

Intern (m/f/d) Transformation & Transaction Tech in Frankfurt or Munich

JOB DESCRIPTION

- You will work as a fully integrated team member on planning, executing and delivering transformation and transaction services (primarily operational and tech due diligence in buy- and sell-side transactions) for international and national private equity and corporate clients.
- From the beginning you get responsibility on our transformation and tech due diligence projects and will receive an intensive on the job training to increase your understanding of the mechanisms of buy- and sell-side M&A processes
- You will be coached by a mentor who is available at any time to support you with professional or personal advice. In case this is of interest to you, you may also write your thesis in our firm.

YOUR PROFILE

- Motivated, proactive, reliable and stress-resistant
- ⇒ In other words: while working hard you want to have fun and enjoy exchanging knowledge and ideas with the team
- Eager to assume responsibility and to work independently
- ⇒ You might have some entrepreneurial spirit and want to improve things, rather than waiting for the next task
- Bachelor's/Master's degree from a renown university/business school with preferably a major in information systems, finance, business administration or similar
- ⇒ Maybe you just like Tech and are a technology enthusiast...
- Previous internships in transaction consulting or in a comparable environment (e.g. M&A, IT consulting)
- Available for a term of at least 2 month
